Stratford High School Playhouse taps it's way into another great show on Jan. 31 with the new Gershwin musical comedy "Crazy for You", where cowboys meet showgirls in the pre-Vegas days of Nevada.

Directed by CeCe Prudhomme, the show is about a stage-struck but down-on-his-luck New Yorker, Bobby Child, who is sent to a small town in Nevada to close down the local theater. Soon Bobby falls in love with the theater owner's daughter, Polly, and hatches a plan to save the theater by putting on a show of his own. Through twists and turns, incredible dancing, and lots of Gershwin tunes, the plot thickens. Featuring Gershwin classics like "Someone to Watch Over Me", "I've Got Rhythm", "They Can't Take That Away From Me" and "Embraceable You", you are sure to get carried away by this show.

Tickets are $16 in advance, and some shows are starting to sell out. Performances will be at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 31-Feb. 2 and Feb. 7-9, with matinees on Feb. 2 and Feb. 9 at 2:30 p.m.. Tickets for "Crazy for You" are available to purchase online now, or can be purchased at the Box Office beginning Jan. 23.
